

Scholarships for Native American Students All Ages

The Idyllwild Arts Summer Program and Idyllwild Arts Academy residential high school are located on a forested 205-acre campus in Southern California's San Jacinto Mountains, a mile above sea level and nestled in the arts town of Idyllwild. For many years our Summer Program, for arts-lovers of all ages and skill levels, has benefited from partnerships and support by many Native American tribes, including the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians, the Cahuilla Band of Indians, the San Manuel Band of Serrano Mission Indians, the San Pasqual Band of Mission Indians, the Soboba Foundation/Soboba Band of Luiseño Indians, the Chickasaw Nation, and the Tribal Alliance of Sovereign Indian Nations.
